

Fun games and super stories for young children!

Here are some great websites which contain lots of fun ideas of games for you to play with your pre-schooler, toddler or baby to really help their development whilst nursery is closed:

Small Talk

<https://bit.ly/2L2CekH>

Small Talk - Little ways to make a big difference, has been created by the National Literacy Trust. It gives easy, bite size ideas for playing with your child from birth to five focussing on how you can Chat, Play and Read with your little one. The ideas are available in Panjabi, Polish and Urdu too.

Hungry Little Minds

<https://bit.ly/2Nihmsr>

Hungry Little Minds has simple, fun ideas on how you can play with your child and support their development. Have a look at, and try out, the simple fun games. Divided into developmental ages from birth to 5 years.

BBC Tiny Happy People

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/tiny-happy-people>

"Your words build their words" and "a chatty child is a happy child" Tiny Happy People is an interactive website to help you develop your child's communication skills through simple interaction and play. It has tips, videos, songs and games for you to try at home. It is mainly focused on children 0-18 months.

Sharing books with your child

<https://booktrust.org.uk>

Sharing books with your child is a great way to spend time together and will really support your child's learning. Enjoy the story and talk about the pictures. If your little one is restless then get active with some rhymes. The BookTrust website gives lots of hints, tips and ideas on books to share and even has some picture book stories which are read aloud.

